

WELCOME! We're glad you're here and have decided to join us today!

Sam Ashmore is our guest teacher today. Sam is the Discipleship Coordinator at Dordt University where he oversees the small groups, both local and international missions, and participates in pastoral care on campus. Sam lives in Sioux Center and is married to the beautiful Gail (Dirksen) Ashmore. They have a joy-filled son, Zion (21 months) and are expecting boy number 2 in early August. Sam and Gail are both in Seminary right now and have a dream to do ministry together in the future. Finally, Sam loves coffee (black), anything related to sports, and can make a competition out of just about anything.

TEACHER: Sam Ashmore

SCRIPTURE: Ruth 2:3-4

SERMON TITLE: "Just Then"

SUMMARY: We are continuing our sermon series "Messy" and this morning we will realize how God, more often than not, works in and through the tiny, ordinary, normal and mundane aspects of our lives and the world rather than the big and spectacular. Within the ordinary comes the extraordinary! The two words "Just then" found in Ruth 2:4 will be the focus because life is filled with many "just then" moments. The goal is that we, as a church, begin to recognize God's presence all around us and respond with small, ordinary, "just then" moments of obedience.

NOTES:

OUR FAMILY

PRAY: While out of state visiting family, Tres Ver Steeg fell and fractured her hip and surgery was required. After her hospital stay, she will be discharged to her daughter's home for in-home rehab. Please pray for quick healing, that her pain can be controlled and that blood clots or infection will not be a factor during recovery. Give prayers of thanks for God's faithfulness, which the Ver Steeg's have seen in many ways since the incident. (SH)

PRAY: Please keep Jason Godsey, Sarah Barnes, and their families in your prayers. Jason's mother, Sharon Buchanan, passed away last week. Please pray for peace and comfort during this difficult time. (SH)

REMINDER: No Marriage Builders Class today; the class will resume next week.
